Handles

PATRICK VAN NESTE – Commercial Director of METAKOR (Belgium) presented the company's new range of handles at Optima Kitchens. As always, it was a much broader conversation than merely discussing fittings.

The challenge? How to bring Modern and Traditional aesthetics together. The answer lies in simply being authentic. Paying attention to the smaller details and finishes whilst being true to your own, personal style. The relationship between the handles and the cabinet faces often defines the style.

We're seeing a current trend of black handles complemented by the softness of natural wood grains, such as oak.

We've created examples of this aesthetic at our showroom so please feel free to stop in and we'll happily show you the latest designs in practice.
